Steady growth and a rich, solid history of innovative products define our longest-running Finalist, Rauland-Borg Corporation, established in 1920. Employees average a decade of service with this leader in the design and manufacture of communications and life-safety equipment for hospitals and schools. The company maintains a VP of Work/Life on their six-member Executive Committee and places great value in developing and maintaining employees. Beyond the free in-office massages and abundant family outings and parties, employees receive much cross-training to facilitate capacity across teams, and paid external coursework extends from driving school to bachelors and full law degrees. Employees are encouraged to participate in the various "team member" committees which direct many company-wide policies, nourishing a strong sense of empowerment and providing a steady source of novel and informed solutions.
